WHY GREAT LAKES?

We are and have been full time alpaca and llama breeders since 1981. We have always bred for what we have chosen to be our own breeding goals rather than just what was popular within the industry at any given time. Many people have asked how a small ranch like ours can compete with the really large ranches that produce hundreds of offspring a year. Our answer is quality, not quantity. The strength of our program has always been in our females, understanding their value in each breeding decision, only settling for the best females to complement our herdsires. Whether you are a newcomer to the industry or a seasoned breeder, we invite you to come visit us in beautiful Northern Michigan, to sit and discuss your goals, and to see for yourself the direction that over twenty years of camelid breeding has taken us in building one of the country's premier breeding herds.
